REFLECTIONS ON THE 2016 VINTAGE

With over two decades of farming and crafting wines of balance and detail, we are excited to introduce the evolution of our label, our Russian River Valley blends, and—the pinnacle of our portfolio—our estate wines.

Thank you for playing a key role in bringing these wines to market. We are grateful for your partnership, drive, and passion for excellent wines. We look forward to a prosperous and productive year ahead.

AT OUR HEART...

RESPECT FOR THE LAND

We are a “vineyard up” winery with a fully integrated approach to winegrowing and winemaking. We planted our own high-density Estate vineyards and have farmed many of California’s most renowned vineyards for more than two decades.

COMMITMENT TO CRAFT

We stick to what works and are focused on the fundamentals. We find inspiration in master, visionary producers around the world as we continually hone our craft—never imitating, ever refining.

We live the wine. This is a project that comes from who we are and what we love. Our small team is involved in every aspect of what we do, from farming our vineyards to shipping our wines.

HERITAGE AND EXPERIENCE

Founded in 1996 as a family winery, we are latter-day pioneers in the Russian River Valley. Our winemaker, viticulturist, and partner, Andy Smith, farmed this region for nearly a decade before joining us in 1999, and our Associate Winemaker, Julie Cooper, has worked with us for more than 14 years.

REFLECTIONS ON OUR 2016 VINTAGE

The 2016 growing season marked a return to the generous coastal Californian conditions that make this such a natural place to grow grapes. After the stresses of the meager 2015 crop, yields were at a healthy, moderate level, producing an effortless balance among fruit, acidity, savory character and structure in the wines. Textures are generous and round, each wine layered and supple. The growing season itself was a relaxed affair, absent of any single defining event—neither frost, nor heat, nor untimely rain. Maybe that’s why the wines are so charming and harmonious, the quality uniformly thrilling.

Our 22nd release comes from exceptional sites we have cultivated, in many cases, for over two decades. Our Estate, leased, and grower-partner vineyards are the raw ingredients for our consistent quality and style. In the winery, we can never improve on what the vines naturally produce, but in 2016, through sensitive craftsmanship, I feel we’ve captured their beauty in a near-perfect flow.

The Chardonnays are slightly richer, broader and softer in acidity than their intense 2015 counterparts. Drink them on release or age them for five to six years. The individual vineyard personalities are front and center—vivid, striking and majestic.

It’s a particularly memorable red wine vintage with a level of concentration reminiscent of the iconic local 2002 and 2010 vintages. And, it’s our finest ever Syrah vintage; our two wines, profound examples of Californian Syrah, are not to be missed. These wines have the volume, depth and structure to reward patient cellaring, but the beauty of 2016 is found in the wines’ approachability—richness and texture are ever-present, even in their youth.

Enclosed are my tasting notes for each 2016 vintage release. I hope you enjoy the wines as much as we enjoyed the challenge of growing, vinifying and bottling them.

2016 DUMOL WESTER REACH CHARDONNAY

A detailed, harmonious translation of the beautiful region where we live and farm.

Our first release of Wester Reach Chardonnay comprises some of the most prized sites in the appellation, vineyards we have planted, farmed and harvested over the past twenty years. We have interwoven three of the Russian River Valley's unique sub-districts, from the valley floor stretching westward to the coolest "reaches" of the coast. We build this blend in the vineyard, understanding how each site contributes signature fruit character.

The 44-year-old vines of the iconic Ritchie Vineyard in the Laguna Ridge District contribute a classic, broad orange oil richness. To that, we layer in the savory/herbal complexity and focused stone fruits of Lorenzo Vineyard's 42-year-old vines in the Santa Rosa Plains. Our high-density DuMOL Estate vines lend bright floral notes and powerful citrus fruit while the Green Valley's higher-elevation low-yielding Dutton Ranch sites bring density and texture, acidity and focus. The 34-year-old vines at the majestic Heintz Ranch complement the blend with citrus oil and truffle-infused complexity.

Orange zest, white flower, sweet sage and hay aromas yield to softer peach and apricot. The palate is full of energy and vigor with clear-cut fruit intensity and savory character. Ripe stone fruits dominate with an underscore of oatmeal and marzipan. Texture builds with a core of old vine extract balanced with vibrant lime and oyster shell freshness. The finish is long, cleansing, and refined. Drink between 2018 and 2022.

2016 DUMOL WESTER REACH PINOT NOIR

A wine that is complete, complex and finely detailed.

Click here for Wester Reach trade tools.

By selecting fruit from a spectrum of vineyards—from the interior plains of the Russian River Valley stretching west to our more coastal sites—we created a wine that is complete, complex and finely detailed.

From the Laguna Ridge district, the iconic Ritchie Vineyard provides succulent dark fruit and broad texture. On the deeper clay soils of the Santa Rosa Plains, the Occidental Road vineyard contributes density, fruit extract and weight. At a higher elevation, on a ridgetop overlooking the Green Valley, our Dutton - Upp Road site offers soaring red and black fruit aromatics and hillside structure, while the Widdoes Vineyard brings cherry fruit intensity and an underbrush complexity. Further westward, our high-density DuMOL Estate unites this complex range with dark fruit intensity, herbal freshness and earthy intricacy.

Complex, layered aromas—red cherry, black pepper, hibiscus and orange peel—are wonderfully bright and fresh while cranberry and pomegranate, wild thyme and underbrush lend fine detail. The broad fruit entry possesses great lift—juicy and vibrant, then immediately deep and layered. The mid-palate is succulent and round with cherry liqueur and rhubarb flavors that extend on fresh acidity through the long, black peppercorn-infused finish. Drink between 2018 and 2026.

2016 DUMOL WILD MOUNTAINSIDE VIOGNIER

Deep concentration and natural viscosity buffered by echoing, tangy acidity.

I love everything about our inaugural vintage of Wild Mountainside Viognier (formerly Lia), from its crystalline, shimmering aromatics through its deep, viscous palate to its vibrant, echoing acidity. The wine makes a great partner to its Wild Mountainside Syrah stablemate, just as these two varieties are co-planted in their northern Rhone Valley place of origin, a bit south of Lyon.

Each of the high-elevation, steeply sloping vineyards brings something unique to the blend. Hoppe-Kelly is the heart of the wine—depth, richness and body. Timbervine layers in minerals, savory tones and focused acidity. Our own GVR Estate parcel offers up floral aromatics, texture and softness. The vineyards combine brilliantly to showcase the wide spectrum of aromas, flavors and textures that Viognier can offer when grown in the right place, farmed to low yields, and treated delicately in the winery.

Explosive aromatics grab your attention and immediately draw you in: white flowers, honeysuckle, peach, and tangerine. There's lemon curd, crisp apple and juicy nectarine. The wine's deep concentration and natural viscosity is buffered by tangy acidity that echoes on and on. Floral aromas continue to fill the senses way beyond the final sip. Like our Chardonnays, don't serve this too cold—approximately 55°F is perfect—and drink in the first three years after release.

2016 DUMOL WILD MOUNTAINSIDE SYRAH

Plush and deep with a sense of mountain precision and detail.

Our Wild Mountain Side Syrah (which replaces our Russian River Valley bottling) grows exclusively in high-elevation mountain vineyards where the vines struggle to produce small crops of truly unique character and incredible quality. I consider these to be some of the finest Syrah vineyards, not only in Sonoma County but in all of California.

Timbervine and Greywacke sit adjacent to one another on the steep slope of Black Mountain, high above the Russian River itself. While they are neighbors, their wine character is very different. Timbervine, grown on shallow iron-rich volcanic soil, is peppery, savory and gamey. Greywacke, grown on mineral-rich, rocky soil, is dark fruited, plush and sensual. Hoppe-Kelly completes the picture and makes a triumphant return following a painstaking replant high up in the Mayacamas range. The wine returns with typically pungent aromatics, deeply textured blackberry fruit, and dried herb complexity. The vineyard blend is both seamless and fascinating.

The wine is inky and concentrated. Blackberry, boysenberry and blueberry fruit characters dominate both aromas and palate along with vibrant grapefruit zest, floral lilac, wild thyme and roasted meat characters. The fruit is plush and deep, but there's always a sense of mountain precision and detail. A savory ferrous note adds intrigue to the full-bodied, chewy palate but the wine remains fine and polished throughout. It holds 15 years of aging potential in a cool cellar.

SOIL LEGEND

2016 DUMOL RITCHIE VINEYARD CHLOE CHARDONNAY

These 44-year-old vines perfectly capture the site's true magnificence.

We've worked with the same two special parcels of old vines at the legendary Ritchie Vineyard since 2001, so it's somewhat hard to believe this is our first 100% Ritchie old-vine bottling. As it was long the backbone of our highly-regarded Chloe blend, the time was right to give the vineyard center stage. We are one of the few clients of Ritchie's oldest parcel of vines, and have long appreciated the broad, golden fruit flavors and deep textural layers that denote the vineyard's natural signature. These 44-year-old vines perfectly capture the site's true magnificence, making it one of the most famous old-vine Chardonnay vineyards in all of California. In 2016, that unique expression is front and center in this new bottling.

Certainly, the richest and most forward Chardonnay of the vintage, this is the designate to drink first; sometime in late 2018 is a good start date. The wine brims with yellow peach, nectarine and honeysuckle flavors, offset by more savory mint leaf, fresh thyme and sweet hay characters. While possessing a restrained power at its core, it is fruit-driven and layered with a broad textural range perfectly balanced by a lively acidic backbone that provides an element of tension to buffer all the natural richness. Drink between 2019 and 2022.

2016 DUMOL CHARLES HEINTZ VINEYARD ISOBEL CHARDONNAY

Each time you return to the glass, there's something new to discover.

Our 2016 Charles Heintz Vineyard Isobel Chardonnay is one of the richest examples in recent memory from this classic coastal site perched at 1,000 feet elevation on a ridgeline high above Green Valley, some eight miles from the Pacific. It's clearly richer, deeper and more fruit-driven than the more mineral, tense 2015 bottling and most similar to its great 2007 counterpart, for those with long memories! We harvested our two vineyard blocks rapidly over two days in late September as soon as the fruit reached perfect maturity. The western block, grown on shallow sandy soils, provides the citric/mineral/botanical backbone to the wine, while the eastern block is deeper, broader, fleshing out the wine's middle. We're the only producer to blend these two distinct parts of the vineyard, offering a full representation of its greatness. I've been working with this wonderful unique site since 1998—a long engagement—and this is easily one of the most memorable bottlings we've crafted.

This Chardonnay is infused with incredibly intense lemongrass and citrus oil notes that extend to the very final echo of flavor. Deeply pitched, it has broad viscosity, carrying honeycomb and truffle notes, offset by vibrant coastal acidity. The wine possesses so many changing dimensions that, each time you return to the glass, there's something new to discover. I recommend you wait to drink until after Spring 2019 to give the wine time to unfold its many nuances. Drink between 2019 and 2023.

2016 DUMOL ESTATE VINEYARD CHARDONNAY

A wine overflowing with European-style vibrancy and mineral-dominated intensity.

The wines from our Estate vineyards are typically built to age the longest, and this 2016 bottling is no exception. The highly eroded coastal soils of our DuMOL Estate, coupled with the pedigree old clone vine material, produce a wine full of tension and tightly coiled power—a nuanced beauty and natural expression that reveals itself with time. The high vine density of our O’Connell and Kearney Estate parcels provides an additional element of complexity to the final wine: narrow row spacing naturally shades the grape clusters from the full force of the California summer sun, retaining more of the delicate, savory nuances of the grapes themselves. This makes for a wine overflowing with European-style vibrancy, steeliness and mineral-dominated intensity, with less of an emphasis on sweet golden fruit.

I recommend opening in mid-2019 and drinking over the following six years, decanting an hour before enjoying over the course of an evening. The aromas are first dominated by flint, spearmint and sweet sage. With aeration, lemon and lime flavors peek out before introducing green apple intensity. Tremendous richness and depth to the mid-palate are a pure translation of the vines themselves—their extract, their intrinsic concentration. While the wine is taut and muscular, there’s an unmatched richness lurking in the background, ready to reveal itself with a little cellar time. This truly is world-class Chardonnay in a serious, vineyard-driven style. Drink between 2019 and 2024.

2016 DUMOL ESTATE VINEYARD PINOT NOIR

A pure translation of the grapes themselves.

This is our richest and deepest Estate Pinot Noir since the wonderful 2012 bottling, and it's certainly the most powerful Pinot of the vintage, befitting of our finest vineyard. That's not to say, however, the wine lacks energy or poise, as it is vibrant, lively and intense with a clear vineyard signature at its core. The wine dances on the palate, all its elements in beautiful equilibrium, with a clarity that's derived from precise vineyard work, not winemaking technique; it's a pure translation of the vines and grapes themselves.

We harvested a strict selection from our three favorite micro-parcels within the wider Estate Vineyard: higher-elevation areas where the soils transition from fluffy/sandy to richer clay. As such, the wine balances sandy soil aromatic intensity—tart fruits, floral and spice notes, and an herbal vein—with richer, deeper clay-derived body and depth—cherry compote, dark fruits and obvious texture. There's gorgeous elemental Pinot flavor throughout: zesty, linear and focused with a long granular structure that offers extended aging potential of 10 to 12 years. Start drinking your allocation sometime in mid-2019 but know the wine's fullest expression will likely emerge between 2020 and 2024.

2016 DUMOL WIDDOES VINEYARD RYAN PINOT NOIR

Fruit purity is at the fore: sleek, dark and intense.

The new vintage of our Widdoes Vineyard Ryan is the most fruit-driven Pinot Noir of the year, and I expect it will provide great drinking pleasure on release and over the next decade. Working with this special vineyard since 1996, we have a level of intimacy with these vines that is unmatched within our portfolio—an intimacy, I believe, that is evident in the wine itself. It naturally and easily seduces, possessing a perfect balance between its fruit, savory and structural elements such that nothing feels forced or confectioned. Fruit purity is at the fore: sleek, dark and intense with building volume.

Vivid flavors of tiny wild berry fruits, bursting with intensity, are supported by vibrant pinpoint acidity that ensures all elements flow to the last lingering echo of flavor. Black pepper and cedar box aromas comingle with pure dark cherry compote flavors as beautiful floral notes are found throughout, the texture deep and layered. For me, the quality and personality align with the 2015 vintage, a wine I particularly love. I'm also reminded of the 2012 vintage, a deep, showy wine that is drinking wonderfully right now. Drink between 2019 and 2026.

2016 DUMOL GREYWACKE VINEYARD EDDIE'S PATCH SYRAH

Dramatic and elemental, one of our finest efforts from this special vintage.

From the iron-rich soils of Greywacke Vineyard, our new vintage of Eddie's Patch is one of our finest efforts from this special vintage. The wine comes from a two-acre steep east-facing hillside parcel of vines that ekes out an existence in meager, shallow soils composed mostly of rocks and gravel. In this regard, it's a very different animal from our Estate Vineyard bottling, and the two wines complement one another beautifully. While the Estate Syrah is entirely pure fruit and succulence, this wine is firmer, more dramatic and elemental. A bit wild and hard to contain, it could be considered Syrah in its more feral state.

Greywacke's iron-rich soils confer an extremely ferrous character to the wine that we see every vintage (terroir!), a trait I describe as mineral/red vapor. This distinctly ferrous note interweaves with spicy dark fruits (tart and savory), mint and a soy-like meatiness. On the palate, the wine is immediately fruit-driven—a slight surprise given the savory nature of its aromatics—with a sense of tiny wild berries, intense, potent and spicy. The wine possesses prodigious structure and deep texture from ultra-low yields due to such unforgiving soils. While you can sample your allocation soon after release (frankly, this wine could outlive most of us), I think it will be best enjoyed between 2020 and 2030. Our finest Eddie's Patch since the 2013 vintage, and one of our greatest efforts ever.

2016 DUMOL NAPA VALLEY CABERNET SAUVIGNON

Intensity and delicacy, with soaring aromatics followed by succulent, pure, dark fruit.

Our 2016 Napa Valley Cabernet is a classically built wine typical of this wonderful Napa vintage: deep fruit, enveloping texture, mineral freshness and long supple structure. It's a harmonious interweaving of four distinct vineyards that intricately balances power and finesse.

With its exceptional farming and rocky volcanic soil, Meteor Vineyard is one of the finest sites in Coombsville. Its fruit dominates the blend and ensures both intensity and delicacy, with soaring aromatics followed by succulent, pure, dark fruit.

True Dog Knoll serves as a new focal point in this vintage, its world-renowned west Oakville deep gravel soils bringing deep texture and mineral focus.

Layering in a small amount of Petit Verdot from our Roach Estate in St. Helena provides an element of blue fruit intensity and refinement that balances beautifully with the darker brooding power of Ballard Vineyard's mountaintop muscle and structure.

With its harmonious layers and textures, this wine reminds me of the 2012 Napa Valley vintage. Dark, inky and opaque, it presents aromas of plum, violets and graphite. Beautiful fruit cascades almost immediately to more savory flavors: crushed rock dustiness, cocoa and cedar. A good, firm mineral spine runs through to the long, bittersweet finish. Ever-evolving in the glass, this wine is poised now and will age beautifully over the next 10+ years.
